

THE LUDVICEK FLIGHT REPORT

As she packed her bag, her mind raced with trepidation.

She had made this trek before with her husband and three kiddos, but even so, the journey seemed daunting. The indigenous missionary family had two weeks of intense hiking in front of them through dense jungle covered mountains. Last time they could carry the little one—how will she do this time? What if one of them gets sick? What if they get lost and their journey is prolonged?

They have settled in this remote little village in order to tell the people about the sacrificial love of their creator. She has always trusted His perfect plan, but moments like this never fail to test that faith. She tried to remember how the Lord had provided time and time again, how much he loved these people but...

And then an MAF plane landed on the village's small airstrip. She watched as her husband chatted with the pilot and strolled back to her with a wide grin on his face. As it turned out, the pilot was already flying empty to the neighboring village they were headed to. If they could be ready by the time he left, they could catch the flight. *They would land at their destination a mere 17 minutes after take off!**

We serve a God who loves to pull through for us, especially when we finally reach the point that we know we can't do it without His help. Matthew 7 tells us that God loves to give good gifts to his children. We are so blessed to be part of a ministry that is the hands and feet of that provision every single day!

* This story is based on true events through the ministry of MAF. What a great tool to bless others and advance God's kingdom!

Our Current Adventure

The past two months have been full of blessing for us. We have sat in more homes than I can now count and have been fed and prayed over. We have enjoyed sharing stories of hardship and joy with each family, being encouraged and hopefully giving a little encouragement in return. Thank you to everyone who has been so hospitable to us.

We are still in the beginning stage of this journey called ministry partnership. We have come a long way, but have many months ahead of us as we work to reach our target of 100% and are ready to ship out. We are grateful to be able to spend this time building our support team!

If you would like to be involved in our ministry, visit our MAF webpage or blog to give and sign up for our newsletter so that you know how to pray for us!
